FILMLOCAL

FilmLocal is a filmmaking community site that is dedicated to bringing the local film community together, anywhere we can. We were able to achieve this large and continually growing membership base through networking events, workshops, and an online platform designed to bring filmmakers together.

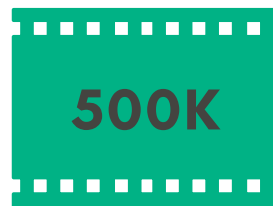

HUMBLE BEGINNINGS

It all started with one filmmaker, Troy Woodbeck, and his laptop. FilmLocal officially launched in October of 2017. Since then, we have seen tremendous growth and have built our community to over 175,000 filmmakers. Even with the rapid growth, what we value is never forgotten, community and filmmaking.
